

December 2011

According to the news casters, this fall has been the driest on record for this area. It is just crazy how we can go so long without rain or snow !

And with the extremely dry conditions, the horses' hooves are really showing it. We intentionally let the water tanks run over while filling them as the little ponies seem to like walking on the softer ground. Peanut, Dixie, and Faith have the worse time on the hard ground but when the snow comes, that will ease things for them. Little Boy really doesn't care about that. He is more concerned with the manure pile being gone. That was his entertainment climbing around on it. Shadow seems to like when he is busy so he leaves her alone.

Augie and Magic have scarcely gone in their shelter at all with the milder temperatures. Magic does not like the winds we have had so you will find him standing behind the shelter.

B J and Montana are having a blast with their round bale. Over the summer, they were on small square bales as they cannot clean up a round bale as it gets too wet from the rains. Now they have figured out how fun it is to dig for leaves in the hay and how nice it is to pull out hay to lay on.

Lucky and April let you know when there is the slightest layer of ice on their water tank - well, Lucky does anyway. She is the vocal one! We have been able to get by without putting the tank heaters in yet but that is over now.

We have couple events coming up. On December 4 we will be at Old Main Village in Mankato for their annual Christmas event. It appears there will be over 30 vendors there ready to help with your Christmas shopping!! This event runs from noon until 4 pm that day.

We also will be attending Christmas in St. Clair on December 10 from 10 am until approximately 2 pm at the St. Clair school. This is a new event for us as well.

We are hoping each of you had a wonderful Thanksgiving Day with family and friends and are looking forward to Christmas. As the busy holiday season is here, time seems to go so quickly!

As always, you have a standing invitation to visit Misfit Acres with just a phone call to schedule!

Merry Christmas Everyone!!

Bruce & Jody Thisted - Misfit Acres Inc - www.misfitacres.com

